It's not about a strange love affair, but about a very normal one. Apart from that, I liked everything about 'Love is Strange'. It is a film about how people live, love, talk, help each other out, appreciate each other and sometimes work on each other's nerves.

sometimes danger comes in a very seductive package.

Brilliantly tracing the progress of unexpected love and the perils of relationships, this gripping novel is a tour de force. Temporarily in Auckland while her husband is undergoing treatment, Sarah enjoys a walk in the coolness of the Symonds Street Cemetery. As she pauses at the grave of Emily Keeling, murdered in 1886 by a rejected suitor, a stranger named Hartley strikes up a conversation. Before long he arranges to meet Sarah for coffee. So their friendship begins, and soon blossoms into an affair, rich in mutual understanding and sexual excitement. But love may become obsession, which brings with it disquieting demands, even menace. 'When love is not madness, it is not love.'

Look, the future is all telepathy and disappointment and pretending we haven't always been winging it. Every day we're the strongest we'll ever be. What doesn't kill you hasn't killed you yet. From Greek mythology to Top 40, Pavlov to Sartre, the space station to the zoo, "Everyone I Love is a Stranger to Someone" collides dark humor and unexpected sweetness.

BLURB/DESCRIPTION: Having lived a life of privilege as an only son of a well-respected family, Gregory is devastated to suddenly find himself a social pariah when rumors of his misdeeds spread through his close knit social circle. However, he finds deliverance in the form of Alicia who agrees to marry him despite his reputation. Although Gregory is certain that one cannot find love in a marriage between two strangers, love begins to blossom as the pair find themselves drawn to each other. Sneak Preview: "Here we are," Alicia said softly. "Welcome to your new home." "Thank you." Gregory knew what was usually expected - that he and Alicia adjourn to their room and consummate their new union. Their situation was unusual; Jason, as the eldest son, was the one whose bedroom activities hold rather more importance to the estate and the family. Gregory was only here to provide funds. "Gregory." Alicia stepped in closer, near enough that the heat of her body warms Gregory's chilled fingers. "Would you like to go to bed?" Gregory tried to answer and was unable to muster up more than, "If you like." "I can sleep in another room, if you wish." Alicia reached out. Her hand hovered over Gregory's shoulder before resting, light as a feather, on the curve of Gregory's neck. "You've hardly said a word tonight." "You as well," Gregory said, leaning into Alicia's touch. Her thumb was just barely brushing Gregory's skin. It had been an age since anyone offered Gregory more than a handshake when before he had been free with expressions of affection. Alicia's hand was warm, even through Gregory's cravat and shirt. "You don't have to sleep in another room." "You would not prefer it?" "I hate being alone," Gregory said, surprising himself with the honesty of his reply. Alicia smiled very briefly and carefully leaned in to press her lips chastely to Gregory's. She was clearly unpracticed at kissing, hesitant and unsure. Gregory knew more than he ought of physical love, and kissing in particular was an area in which he excelled. He felt, suddenly, that he ought to show Alicia what to do, and so he hooked his hands into Alicia's vest to pull her in.
