While they now know how to close off the Eyes in Time in order to stop Gordon and his army returning to the little town of Ashby, Lily and Queen Dragon have not been able to locate the existing Eyes. To find the Eyes, they have to track down the magicians who built them. When they arrive at the magical land which the magicians inhabit, they are captured and separated. Lily manages to escape from her cell and while she doesn't find Queen Dragon, she finds another dragon called Baba who has been locked up for many years and is very ill. Baba explains to Lily that the magicians have been drinking a potion concocted from her blood. The magical potion extends the magicians' lives but now that Baba is so ill, they are looking for a healthy dragon to replace her. With horror, Lily realises that dragon is her beloved friend, Queen Dragon. When Lily tries to find Queen Dragon they are both turned into mosaics in the ceiling of the magicians' banquet hall. In a desperate fight for survival, Lily and Queen Dragon must find the secret locations of the Eyes in Time before the magicians find them and imprison them for all time.

This book covers the basic guidelines of Vittorio Benussi's research during the period at Graz and at Padua. It does so in the light of a thorough study of his Nachlass. The book re-evaluates Benussi's work as a historical piece, and shows how his work is still relevant today, especially in the areas of cognitive psychology and cognitive science. The volume deals with this original and ingenious - though largely ignored - scholar and discusses his work as a leading experimental psychologist. Benussi's contributions as discussed in this book were particularly relevant in the fields of visual and tactile perception, time perception, forensic psychology, hypnosis and suggestion, unconscious, and emotions. His classical papers are impressive in their originality, energy, range of approaches, experimental skill, the wealth of findings, and the quality of theoretical discussions. This book demonstrates that Benussi was ahead of his time and that his themes, experiments and research programmes are highly relevant to contemporary cognitive psychology.

The first part of this book deals with specialized knowledge and its impact on LSP teaching; the second analyses the relation between teaching language for specific purposes and the processes of understanding; the third is dedicated to curriculum design.
