"A Family Guide to Childhood Glaucoma and Cataracts" was developed as a tool to aid families in navigating the many questions that arise from the diagnosis and treatment of childhood glaucoma or cataract. Each chapter is presented in a question-and-answer format, with images that make certain concepts and processes easier to understand. In addition to basic information about glaucoma and cataracts, topics addressed include doctor visits, medications, treatment options, eye surgery, contact lenses and glasses, low vision, genetics and heredity, related conditions, such as amblyopia (lazy eye) and strabismus, social, educational, and other nonmedical concerns, and definitions of common terms used by medical professionals serving patients with glaucoma or cataracts. The PGCFA is a support group for parents and families dedicated to issues related to pediatric glaucoma and cataracts. This organization provides education and support to families of children with these diseases around the world through its membership meetings, website (<http://www.pgcfa.org>), discussion forums, and newsletter."

The instant New York Times bestseller! "Emily Oster dives into the data on parenting issues, cuts through the clutter, and gives families the bottom line to help them make better decisions." -Good Morning America "A targeted mini-MBA program designed to help moms and dads establish best practices for day-to-day operations. -The Washington Post From the bestselling author of Expecting Better and Cribsheet, the next step in data driven parenting from economist Emily Oster. In The Family Firm, Brown professor of economics and mom of two Emily Oster offers a classic business school framework for data-driven parents to think more deliberately about the key issues of the elementary years: school, health, extracurricular activities, and more. Unlike the hourly challenges of infant parenting, the big questions in this age come up less frequently. But we live with the consequences of our decisions for much longer. What's the right kind of school and at what age should a particular kid start? How do you encourage a healthy diet? Should kids play a sport and how seriously? How do you think smartly about encouraging children's independence? Along with these bigger questions, Oster investigates how to navigate the complexity of day-to-day family logistics. Making these decisions is less about finding the specific answer and more about taking the right approach. Parents of this age are often still working in baby mode, which is to say, under stress and on the fly. That is a classic management problem, and Oster takes a page from her time as a business school professor at the University of Chicago to show us that thoughtful business process can help smooth out tough family decisions. The Family Firm is a smart and winning guide to how to think clearly--and with less ambient stress--about the key decisions of the elementary school years. Parenting is a full-time job. It's time we start treating it like one.
