The one The Indifferent Stars Above chooses to follow as its primary protagonist is not one of the Donners themselves, but rather Sarah Graves: a newlywed young woman who saw the journey as her honeymoon, but ended up losing her husband and father along the way, and who took part in the Fortorn Hope which set out to bring help back to the main camp. Focusing on her, the book recounts the party ' s disastrous journey.

" The Indifferent " has three nine-line stanzas following a rhyme scheme of abbaacddd with varied meter. Each stanza has two parts, with the last two lines consisting of a rhyming couplet. Donne employs his famous sardonic wit; here is a man whose " love " is non-exclusive and can be directed at multiple women at the same time.
