Keishorne Scott writes a brief, but powerful playbook on men that everyone's daughter regardless of age, race, color or creed should read! In this book, Scott gives a reality check on most men and proves that not all of them are created equal. He gives up the secrets on what motivates some men to love and raises the red flags on what keeps others from ever loving back. Using analogies to certain animals, Scott poignantly provides a roadmap for what to look out for in men and what to look for in a King. By the time you read the last page, you will know for sure what makes your man anyone of the following types: * A Sneaky Cheat * A Flighty Hunter * A Jealous Hound * A Fierce, Majestic King! A happily married man himself and father to a beautiful daughter, Scott gives a no-holds-barred account on how men really think, and hands women the power on exactly how to pick out the one for a meaningful, serious relationship. This is a playbook no woman can afford to pass up!

What will a boy do for love? The day he starts school, a young boy falls in love for the very first time. He's so in love, in fact, that Sylvia is all he can see. But Sylvia doesn't see him. Sylvia has eyes only for birds. So in a bold gesture to get her attention, the boy goes to school dressed up as a bird. It isn't easy, but he doesn't care. When your heart takes flight, playing it safe is for the birds!

There's a hawk in the city! New York City is known for its sky-scrapers, subways, and hustle and bustle -- not for its wildlife. So everyone is surprised when a red-tailed hawk is spotted flying over Fifth Avenue, and even more surprised when he decides to settle down on the ledge of one of the Big Apple's swankiest apartment buildings. The hawk soon draws many admirers. They name him Pale Male and watch as he builds his nest, finds a mate, and teaches his little hawk babies to fly. Based on

From the New York Times bestselling author/illustrator of Max the Brave comes an inspiring and adorable picture book about a pair of unlikely friends who face down a pack of bullies. In this timely and charming story about the importance of being true to yourself, mindfulness, and standing by your friends, we meet Leonard, a lion, and his best friend Marianne, a . . . duck. Leonard and Marianne have a happy life together—talking, playing, writing poems, and making wishes—until one day a pack of bullies questions whether it's right for a lion and a duck to be pals. Leonard soon learns there are many ways to be a lion, and many ways to be a friend, and that sometimes finding just the right words can change the world . . . This sweet, funny, thoughtful, and much-needed story will open up readers' eyes to the importance of being who they are and not backing down to hurtful criticism. It's an empowering tale about connecting with others and choosing kindness over bullying, and shows children how angry and provocative words can be overcome by empathy and inner courage. Given the choice between dealing with a psycho killer, a meddling mother and an all too sexy falcon, this poor doctor does what any sane lion would do--he takes a nice, long nap. Avian Soaring Security has transferred Clarice to the Furry United Coalition so she can help track some escaped psycho patients. As if that weren't bad enough, they partnered her with the very pampered Dr. Manners. Everything about the attractive feline annoys her, except for his flaming hot kisses. But is passion enough to keep a usually sparring species together? Nolan's pedigree isn't the only thing preventing him from falling for his sexy partner. She's bossy, violent, rude and oh so intriguing to this curious cat, but his meddling mother will never allow him to get involved with a bird. But before he can decide if love is worth bucking pride tradition, he needs to stay out of the clutches of a demented ex-patient.
