'Global Economic Prospects 2008: Technology Diffusion in the Developing World' examines the state of technology in developing been much faster than in high-income countries—reflecting increased exposure to foreign technology as a result of linkages with high-skilled diasporas and the opening of these countries to often stymie progress, especially among low-income countries. This year's 'Global Economic Prospects' comes on the heels of an extended period of strong growth and a 15 year period of strong performance in
